AFTER SCHOOL CLASSES

Walhalla Art Works is excited to announce a new schedule of weekly after-school kids' art classes. Through a series of projects, including painting, sculpture, clay and lots and lots of drawing, students ages 5-12 will be introduced to visual arts fundamentals and techniques. Small class sizes will allow them time and individual attention to hone their creativity and develop their technical skill. Kids will have the unique opportunity to experience a working art studio and use professional-grade materials such as charcoal, acrylics, and ceramics.

Teens 12 and up will have a chance to participate in a drawing club. This small, club like environment will expose them to a wide variety of drawing styles, materials, and techniques while at the same time encouraging them to develop their own creative style.

All classes will have less than 12 students and will be taught by Libby Imbody. Libby is a certified art educator and local artist. She has experience in a variety of art media and has been sharing her studio with students for over nine years.

Classes will be offered Wednesdays in the form of two, nine session semesters. One makeup day is scheduled.

FIRST SEMESTER:

September 14th-November 9th, makeup date is November 16th.

SECOND SEMESTER:

February 1st-March 29th, makeup date is April 5th
